FRIDAY JUNE 10.

George W. Childs, of the Philadelphia Ledger, will place a $10,000 window in Memorial Hall at Harvard college, as a memorial of Longfellow.

When Major Ben Perley Poore made his will he did not follow the custom of the day. He left all his estate and all his pictures and relics, to his wife.

Mr. George William Curtis says that the post of honor in politics is sitting on the fence. That may be, but judging from the way some of the mudwumps squirm, one would suppose the fence was made of barbed wire.

The old democratic war horse, Allen G. Thurman, of Ohio, vigorously protests against being pulled out of a saddle to lead the democratic torchon home in Ohio. The old Roman quotes withunction: "Perhaps it was right to dissemble your love, but why did you hook me down stairs"—in '76, '80, and '84?

Chief Justice Waite, of the United States supreme court, was graduated from Yale fifty years ago this month. He will be present at the commencement exercises of his alma mater this year. His vigorous health is remarkable when the amount of work he has performed in the last half century is considered.

John Hutchinson, one of the famous "Hutchinson Family," whose quaint Plymouth Rock garb and sweet music were thirty years ago familiar to the public, was present at the Baptist convention at St. Paul last week. John and Abby are the only members of the family living, and they still wear the ancient Plymouth garb.

The spirit of the administration at Washington is pretty correctly illustrated by this fact: William A. Wheeler, ex vice president of the United States, lived an honorable life. When he died the flags at the government buildings at Washington were not half-masted. Courted with the respect shown to the memory of the Rebel Jake Thompson, this action shows the nice democratic appreciation of the fitness of things.

An impassioned republican paper, in reviewing the history of the democratic party, asks this question: "What single living principle, what embodied idea worth the name, what landmark that can be seen rising half an inch above its dreary desert of dead men's bones has the democratic party got to show at the present time, after nearly a century of existence?" To which a democratic exchange facetiously answers, "Well, there is Minister Phelps!"

We are told that the crow lives 100 years. It is a good thing to know. When in the course of human events it becomes necessary to eat crow, it might be preferable to tackle it at the first end of the century rather than at the last end. This paragraph is purely political.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Enquirer will have to take its crow in 1888 and not wait till the beginning of the next century; and it will find the crow pretty tough. The crow republicans got in 1881 seemed a good deal older than 100 years, and the same foul will be dished up to the democrats next year.

It has been suggested that Mr. Blaine is the only candidate for the presidency who is not afraid to go to Europe and stay a year for fear he would be forgotten before he got ready to come home. Says a Denver paper, Blaine is the only man who is prominently spoken of in connection with the presidential nomination who would dare leave the country for a year. When he fails for Europe he will leave the field clear for Sherman, Harrison, Hawley, and Cullom to erect their little fences. You could not induce these gentlemen to go abroad just now if you were to present them with a steamship.

The International lesson committee held a session at the Grand Pacific hotel, Chicago, the other day, to select the Sunday school lessons for 1888. Ten of the fourteen members were present. For the first six months of that year the studies will be in the Gospel of Mark. For the last half of the year the lessons will be in the Old Testament, beginning with the Book of Samuel and continuing to the close of Solomon's reign. It is proposed to spend the whole of 1889 on the Gospel of Luke. The lessons will be carried to England by Dr. John Hall and revised by the foreign members of the committee. In the early autumn, a sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. Vincent, Hall, Randolph, and Dunning, will meet in New York for a final revision of the series, which will then be published.

THE BALLOON ENTERPRISE.

The New York World will start a balloon from St. Louis on Saturday afternoon whose destination will be New York City. It is not stated how many persons will take passage in this aerial machine, but probably not more than one. The balloon is expected to take a northeasterly course from St. Louis and then bear to the south of the lake, and enter the state of New York on the north. This is done to avoid the fitful winds that so often prevail among the Allegheny mountains. Notes of the starting of the balloon have been sent to all the principal towns and cities on the proposed route of the aerial ship. Frequent dispatch will be thrown from the balloon intended for the New York World, and those who pick them up are requested to hasten with all possible speed to the nearest telegraph office and have the messages transmitted to that paper. These messages will contain a brief description of the scenes along the route, and also an account of whatever events of interest may take place in the management of the balloon. This experiment of crossing from the Mississippi valley to the eastern Atlantic coast in a balloon will cost the world thousands of dollars, but it is intended to serve the purpose of an advertising scheme and in that respect it will be successful.

This will be the second attempt to reach New York from St. Louis by a balloon. On the 23d of June, 1850, John Wise, the noted aeronaut, with three other persons, ascended from St. Louis in a two-thousand balloon destined for New York city. They had a stormy passage, and in three days, after travelling 1,150 miles, they landed among the trees in Jefferson county, New York, very narrowly escaping with their lives. But balloons have been much improved since then, and it is probable that the world balloon may land its crew in safety somewhere in the vicinity of New York.

Mr. Pulitzer, of the World, had an eye to clarity as well as to business when he determined to start his big balloon from St. Louis. It will give the town a little boom for that day.

ABOUT THE SURPLUS.

The public debt statement for May shows a debt reduction of $8,553,997 for the month. The cash in the treasury is nearly $500,000,000. Since the close of the war, twenty-two years ago, the public debt has been diminished sixteen hundred millions of dollars, an average of $73,000,000 a year. The debt is not only a trifle over 40 per cent of what it was at its highest point. The amount of taxes collected by the government in 1865 was $922,000,000. The amount collected last year was $836,000,000. So that the people are actually taxed $14,000,000 a year more than they were in the year the war ended. There can be no more legitimate "debt reduction" after this month, outside the operations of the sinking fund. What appears to be a reduction will be merely an increase of the cash balance in the treasury. Why should the people be taxed to pile up money in the treasury? Why should the bondholders be compelled to sell their unamortized debt at a loss at maturity, inescapably to them, by the operations of the sinking fund? The remark of the president's home journal, the Buffalo Courier, that "an extra session of congress in October is altogether probable" ought to be true.

The foregoing paragraph is from the New York World, which promised that the surplus should be reduced when the democrats got charge of the government. Well, the democrats have the government, and have had it going on three years, and still the surplus grows, and tax remains the same.

The history of the past two years shows that the democratic party is incapable of presenting measures which will meet the present anomalous condition of affairs. It is generally admitted that some measure should be enacted which would reduce the revenues nearly one hundred million dollars a year. But what kind of a measure shall it be? There is not a democratic statesman who can answer the question, and it is equally true that there is no republican statesman who has ever suggested a most feasible plan to back in this vicinity. Michael Burns, a well-known liquor dealer of this city, has brought to Augusta from Liverpool a large invoice of foreign distilled spirits, which he is selling to all who wish to purchase. He closed his shop in March last and prepared for Liverpool, where he entered into negotiations with one of the largest importing houses in that city for an unlimited supply of all kinds of distilled spirits. The United States protects all persons importing liquors from foreign countries from prosecution under any State prohibitory law for selling such goods. The original broken packages, which he desired to sell, included the usual advance lot of Irish whisky and Jamaica rum. The liquor came through the Portland custom house and arrived here by freight. When the goods were carried through the streets the police looked upon the scene with widely-swinging eyes, and every lawyer in the city has been engaged in looking up the law bearing upon the sale of imported liquors in their original packages.

KNOX COLLEGE.

Celebrating Its Semi-Centennial Anniversary.

GALESBURG, Ill., June 10.—Knox College was half a century old yesterday, and the event was celebrated with a regular jubilee. Thousands of the students and friends of the institution, with alumni from all parts of the country, and from abroad, were present at the exercises. The principal oration was delivered by Hon. S. V. White, the New York millionaire, who was graduated by Knox College thirty years ago, and who ranks as one of the best students that ever received a diploma from the institution. He is a native of Jersey county, in this State, and while a student at Knox earned by hard work every dollar of the sum required to enable him to pay his way. The alumnus addressed was delivered by Rev. J. E. Hoy, of Chicago, and the historical address by Rev. W. S. Gale, son of the founder of the college.

He Roasted His Wife.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 10.—A shocking case of cruelty to a wife, with probably fatal results, is reported from El Paso, Tex. The town is surrounded by suburbs containing a poor and low Mexican population, depraved, dishonest, and ferocious. In one of these Mexican huts Juan Guavanza, a peddler, became infuriated with his wife, who was cooking breakfast at an open fire-place. The woman is terribly burned. The perpetrator of the brutal crime escaped into Mexico.

Schooner Wrecked.

CHICAGO, June 10.—The three-masted schooner Sunrise, of Chicago, went ashore at 4 o'clock yesterday morning at Wilmette, four miles north of Evanston. There was a heavy fog and strong east wind, and a heavy sea running. The Captain sent the mate ashore with four men in the yawl. They landed safely and sent word to the Life-saving Station at Evanston, and the life-boat and crew were loaded on an express wagon and rushed to the rescue. The Schooner is owned by J. B. Clark & Co., of Chicago, and built at Buffalo for this port. June 1 with 80 tons of coal.

A Bitter Contest Expected.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The Interstate Commerce commission is trying to arrange a date for hearing the arguments upon the complaints of the Burton Stock-car company against number of railroad companies. Gen. Butler has signified his intention to bring a number of witnesses from all parts of the country on the side of the car company, and a bitter contest is expected. Chairman Cooley has returned to the city.

Three Strikers Shot.

SCRANTON, Pa., June 10.—A conflict occurred yesterday morning between strikers and miners employed at the Grassy Island mine, and three strikers were shot. The Grassy Island mine is operated by Simpkins & Watkins, of this city, and is located near Weston, nine miles north. A strike has been in progress at the colliery for several months and the miners employed have been guarded by deputy sheriffs.

At Cleveland, Ohio, Thursday, Assistant City Clerk Corbett was arrested charged with forgery. He is prominent in the Knights of Labor, is editor of a paper, and something of a Democratic politician.

C. R. Bacon, who committed suicide at Minneapolis Wednesday, was impelled by the act of refusal of his wife to take his medicines, she having placed herself under the treatment of a "Christian scientist."

An explosion of gasoline yesterday at Chattanooga, Tenn., caused a $1,000 fire.

Henry Ide and Matt Peck, firemen, were killed by a falling wall. Humphry Reeves, manager of the Standard Gas Machine, was horribly burned, as were also James Reynolds, W. D. Miller, and Peter Jones.

The annual closing exercises at the United States Military Academy, at West Point, and at the United States Naval Academy, at Annapolis, were held yesterday. At the Naval Academy, Alfred Webster, graduating cadet, took the highest honors—Robert Stoeker and Frank W. Hills, of Minnesota, and Elliot Snow, of Utah Territory.

The Grand Lodge of Masons of New York, upon report of a special committee, have forfeited the warrant of Prudential Lodge, which recently admitted to membership Jim Dunn, Tom Gould, and six other disreputable Members of Prudential Lodge who now desire to affiliate with the fraternity prior to first establishing their Masonic purity and worthiness.

Sixteen years ago Julius Albright, of Quincy, Ill., was divorced from his wife, whom he is suspected of being too intimate with Martin Curry. Albright, covered with shame, left the town, and in all the years was never seen. His wife married Curry shortly after he went away, and a boy, now 15 years old and bearing his father's name, was born to them. Thursday Albright returned, saw the son sitting at a table, and shot him, inflicting a wound that will cause his death. Albright said he intended to kill the father.

OUT OF THE WOODS.

President Cleveland and Party Leave Saratoga Lake.

MALONE, N. Y., June 10.—The President and party were driven in a buckboard to Paul Smith's yesterday and there took the special car Marquette over the Northern Adirondack Railroad to Mohia, where the famous tourist train was taken. Crowds of people were at every station where stops were made.

WASHERMAN, June 10.—It is understood that the return of the President is awaited with considerable solicitude by quite an array of prominent politicians, who propose visiting Washington on various matters of business connected with appointments to office, the programme to be pursued in the coming Presidential campaign, and the necessity or otherwise for calling an extra session of Congress. Several Democratic Senators and members have announced their intention to talk plainly with the President concerning the outlook for 1888, and to argue in favor of convening Congress at an early date, and with regard to the question of revision of the tariff and other affairs of national importance, more especially as to the proper methods to be pursued in forcing a reduction of the Treasury surplus. There are other matters awaiting the action of the President, the most important being the Alaska fishery dispute with Great Britain, the solution of which is giving the State Department considerable trouble. The proposed visit of the President to St. Louis and the probabilities attending a western tour during the summer are affairs in which considerable interest is manifested.

Mr. McMartin, Demagogue, Mr. O'Brien, New York, June 10.—John McMartin, leader of the Harry George party, thinks, the writer, an open letter denouncing William O'Brien and the men who got him here and praised his work in Canada as hypocrites. He says their sympathy for evicted Irish tenants is very tender, but that he had not heard a word from Tammany Hall or Bishop O'Farrell in "condemnation of the brutal evictions of a couple of weeks ago in Pennsylvania, where scores of families were pitched out of their houses into the streets and obliged to remain there all night, as the landlord forbade, under penalty of eviction, any one to give them shelter."

Postoffice Receipts and Expenses.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Silas Auditor McConville has prepared a comparative statement of the receipts and expenses of the Postoffice Department for the last quarter of the calendar year for the last three years. It shows that the excess of expenditures over receipts in the last quarter of 1884 was $1,617,485; in 1885 of $1,251,982, and in 1886 only $854,637. Should this ratio be maintained for the rest of the fiscal year the deficit of the Postoffice Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1887, will be less than $800,000.

The deceased was born in Canada in 1805, and was married to Mr. Wm. McNeil in 1825. Twelve children were born to them nine of whom—two sons and seven daughters—survive. Her husband preceded her to the other world some twenty-one years ago. Her father was a captain in the Revolutionary war, and her family was noted for longevity. Her oldest son was killed in the battle at Harrison's Landing in 1862. She had been troubled with the heart disease for twenty-one years, but was possessed of all the energy and perseverance of a loving and faithful mother and her willing hands had been kept busy up to the very last. She was a faithful member of the Wesleyan church of Canada, unwavering in her faith, and her last days were peaceful.

TOO MUCH CREDIT.

Extract from the New York Journal of Commerce, June 6, 1851.

Some of our contemporaries have given the Phoenix Assurance company, of London, too large credit in the matter of losses at the recent fires. At the Williamsburg conflagration the share of this company was put down at $17,000, when it was only $12,000. At the Bell Line studios it was credited with $29,750, when it was only $8,000. The company could readily stand the heavy losses ascribed to it, but it does not care to acquire the reputation of being reckless underwriter.

Mr. Mark Ripley represents the Phoenix of London. The company has been doing business for the past century and is one of the strongest represented in this country.

The Deloit common council is just now engaged in reorganizing the fire department of that city, and are discussing an ordinance which provides for a department of six men, not including the fire marshal and one assistant. One of the six men is paid for his full time, while five are to be paid fifty dollars per year. The marshal is to receive $100 per year, and the assistant $75. The marshal is given full control of the management of the department and is held responsible for the working of the force. This is a step in the right direction, and overcomes nearly all of the objections to the old "volunteer" way of running the machine." Make one step further, Beloit, and take off three more men; pay them to hire extra men when required at fires—which will not be required once a year—and you will then have a department that will not be expensive; one easily controlled, and your property owners will more than make up the expense in the amount of insurance premiums, which they can with safety allow to lapse. Then you will see your little fire department arriving at fires—day or night—"in one time and two motions," words to that effect. Tackle it.

COMING EVENTS.

The Bower City Cadets drill this evening at the Guards armory.

Remember the Fourth of July committee meeting this evening at the council room.

W. H. Sargent Post No. 20, G. A. R., assembles in regular semi-weekly session this evening at Post hall.

"Children's day" will be observed next Sabbath, in the First Methodist and the Court Street M. E. church.

The National Union hold their regular semi-monthly meeting this evening in the Judd block, North Main street.

All young men who desire to participate in the mardi gras parade on the Fourth of July are requested to meet at the council chamber this evening.

People's Lodge No. 40, Independent Order of Good Templars, assemble in regular weekly session this evening at the Lodge room in the Court Street M. E. church block.

The ladies of the Baptist church are making preparations for a service to be held in the church parlor next Monday evening. A short programme will be presented and ice cream and cake served.

The ladies of W. I. C. will have a strawberry festival at Post hall, on Saturday evening, June 11th. A cordial invitation is extended to G. A. R., to the Sons of Veterans and to all friends and citizens.

The members of Crystal Temple of Honor No. 32 and of People's Lodge No. 40, Independent Order of Good Templars, are making arrangements for a pleasure excursion to Devil's Lake on Friday, June 21st, via the Chicago & Northwestern railway. The committee have already chartered four passenger coaches for the occasion, and placed the fare for the round trip at $1.75. The committee will attend to making all the necessary arrangements for the comfort and pleasure of the excursionists. There is no better place in the state where so much romantic scenery can be seen as at Devil's Lake, and it is one of the most pleasant places for a large picnic party to congregate for a day's pleasure. No doubt the excursion will be a gratifying success.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. W. T. Pomeroy, of the First ward, is visiting friends at Edgerton.

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Rand, of Detroit, Mich., and Mr. R. B. McNiel, of Carrollton, Iowa, are in the city called here to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. M. B. McNiel, who deceased this afternoon.

Admiral Judd remarked that the street railway companies had not complied with the ordinance relating to the planking of the street crossings between their tracks to the full width of the streets, and moved that the clerk be instructed to notify and request the agents of the companies to so plank their track crossings.

Ad. Judd suggested that the clerk notify the road master, as the council had on several occasions made similar requests of the agents representing the companies, and no notice had been taken of the request.

Ad. Smith remarked that the road master was an employee of the road, and the request would have to be made either to the company or the company's agent.

Ad. Judd motioned that the road master be granted permission to lay gas and water companies relating to the laying of pipe in West Milwaukee street, and everything was satisfactorily settled, and the gas company was instructed to proceed in laying their pipe.
